Chaoz

The background of the page is a light cream color, overlaid with a minimalist geometric pattern of thick, solid black lines. These lines intersect to form a grid of various-sized rectangular and triangular shapes. One line runs diagonally from the top-left towards the bottom-right. Another line runs diagonally from the top-right towards the bottom-left. A third line is horizontal, and a fourth is vertical, intersecting the diagonal lines. The text is positioned in the upper right quadrant, within one of the larger rectangular areas created by the lines.

In the opinion of many, education is an ever-repeating pattern, a ceaseless cycle in which only the faces change. There is a common denominator which helps to relate each year to the preceding year, which gives to the school an ever-increasing tradition. This common denominator is the student, the person around whom the school revolves.

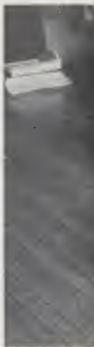

Each person he meets,
each thing he does, affects the student and in turn affects the school.

The academic and social influences of the school tend to develop the final education of the student.

People

A school is many things — a winning football team, a night of study before a test, a dance, a play, a band concert, basketball tourneys, a pep session — but most important of all, the school is people. It doesn't matter whether they are men or women, students or teachers, seniors or freshmen, they are still people; and each, in his own way, adds to the experiences — good and bad, happy and sad, old and new — of all the others. School is people.

Activities

Education can never be complete with merely academic knowledge. The student also learns a great deal from his contacts with other individuals, both adults and teenagers. The activities provide, therefore, an educational outlet for the student, an outlet which serves to give him a well-rounded personality.

Chorus

The R.C.H.S. chorus has flourished under the direction of our new choral director, Mr. Don Peltier. With daily classes of chorus students and Choraleers, he has worked to improve our over-all sound. The Choraleers, a mixed singing group, perform, not only in concert, but also for community clubs and organizations. Mr. Peltier has also given private lessons to willing students with the hope of correcting any individual problems. A "Merry Christmas" was wished at the traditional Christmas concert by the chorus, soloists, and the Choraleers. The annual Spring Concert, featuring the band and chorus, was an even greater success.

With love in my heart,
Forgetting self,
And with charity for all,

Place in which to live.
Thus, will my own life become

MRS. CAPPUCCILLI, Sponsor — KATHY WILLIAMS, Editor

During the fall, creative students were urged to submit original poems, essays, and stories to PENORAMA. The best compositions were then selected for publication. Under the able leadership of Editor Kathy Williams and Sponsor Mrs. Cappuccilli the staff worked diligently to produce another successful PENORAMA.

"When will the copy be done?"

"When can we pick up the pictures we took last week?"

The ambitious staff cropped photos, planned layouts, wrote headlines, typed copy and identification, and proofread every page to condense into this year's Chaos the many activities and memories of the school-year 1966-1967.

"Major Barbara," one of George Bernard Shaw's most brilliant and witty social satires, was the all-school production of Spring, 1966. Featuring Susie Tilton, a senior, in the title role, the play concerned the conflict which arose between the supporters of religion, Major Barbara and her Salvation Army associates, and the advocates of commercialism, especially Barbara's father, Sir Andrew Undershaft (Larry Bruce). The play ends with an apparent victory for Barbara's father, but it is apparent that he has not won a final victory; he has only delayed his ultimate defeat.

1966 Prom

The RCHS gymnasium became "Basin Street" for one exciting evening. Girls in lovely formals and boys in white dinner jackets danced, admired Queen Judy Smith and King Thom Bausman, and enjoyed the colorful refreshments. It was a wonderful Prom . . . a Prom to remember.

Athletics

Education is learning about life, about people, and about your environment. What better way is there to learn about people than by competing with them? Athletics serves as the final educational experience completing the formation of the student as a well-rounded person.

Homecoming

The Bombers, under the direction of Coach Bill Siderewicz, battled their way to another successful football season for R. C. H. S. For the third consecutive year, we were one of the top scoring teams in the state of Indiana as our offensive squad tallied over 300 season points and averaged more than 34 points a game. The speed and agility of senior halfback Danny Epler left defenders falling at his heels as he scored 186 points for the Bombers in '66 and was the No. 2 scorer in the state.

Queen Linda and Congressman Halleck

Pretty Linda Foulks reigned over the 1966 Homecoming, one of the finest in school history. R.C.H.S. was honored by the presence of Congressman Charles Halleck, who played on the 1916 Bomber football team, seven of his teammates, and Mr. Floyd Meyers, his coach. The festivities were climaxed by a 31-13 victory over Knox.

Under the direction of Coach Larry McCray, the Bombers were able to maintain a .450 season in 66-67. Even though the team lacked previous varsity experience, their hustle, determination, and never-say-die spirit made them a definite threat to their experienced opponents. The season was ended with a sectional loss to tourney-favorite Wolcott — a night long remembered not only because of its rousing excitement, but also because nearly 3,000 basketball fans were stranded in the North White gymnasium overnight on account of blinding and drifting snow.

This is not the end.
It is not even the beginning of the end.
It is rather the end of the beginning.

— Winston Churchill

The 1967 CHAOS is sadly, but proudly, dedicated to Paul Hattabaugh and Ron Stath.

Paul Hattabaugh, a 1963 graduate of R.C.H.S., died in Viet Nam as a result of a head gunshot wound received in hostile ground action. The Purple Heart was awarded posthumously to the paratrooper rifleman who began his tour of duty in Viet Nam on Aug. 20, 1965. Paul, a member of the First Calvary Division of the First Airborne Brigade, in late September had wound up his first week of combat operations in South Viet Nam's Central Highlands with a unit which repelled 27 attempted Cong attacks in the An Khe region. The First Brigade troops engaged in numerous fights as guerrilla forces attempted to penetrate perimeter defenses. As a student, Paul was a quiet, well-mannered boy; as a soldier, he gave his life for his country.

PAUL HATTABAUGH — April 2, 1966

RON STATH — June 26, 1966

Ron Stath's memory shall always be fresh in the minds of all that knew him. Although he was suffering from an incurable disease, he faithfully completed and excelled in his studies. Aside from his regular school work and numerous extra-curricular activities, he found time to do a yeoman job as Senior Class President. His many rewards included the distinction of being a National Merit Semi-Finalist and his election into the National Honor Society in his junior year. He was also awarded a coveted Alfred P. Sloan Scholarship. He then entered Purdue University, but his illness forced him to discontinue school with only six weeks remaining in the term. An exceptional and dedicated student, Ron possessed a quality called courage — that thing that keeps you going in time of happiness, sorrow, or despair. Ron truly had it — something we all should possess, a faith in God and the courage to fight no matter what the odds. Everyone who knew him will remember him as a man.
